Hazard Health

JoAnna Hazard is a Registered Dietitian (RD) who holds a Master of Science in nutrition and dietetics. She has practiced nutrition for over ten years in a variety of settings, but found her passion while working at a major cancer center in Philadelphia. While there she obtained dual board certifications in both oncology nutrition (CSO) and nutrition support (CNSC). This added training allowed her to independently manage people who depend on tube feeds and IV feedings (TPN) to stay strong during cancer treatment.

JoAnna is an active member of the academy of nutrition and dietetics and is a member of the oncology and nutrition support practice groups. She has presented both nationally and internationally on the topics of health and wellness as it relates to cancer and has made multiple media appearances to do the same. After acquiring a certification in culinary nutrition, JoAnna started providing cooking classes and lecturing on the simplicity of using real foods in daily life.
